

Dr. Eva Hoch is a university lecturer and lead psychologist at the Department of Psychiatry and Psychotherapy, Ludwig-Maximilian University, Munich. She is an internationally renowned expert in the field of cannabis. With her research group she developed, tested and translated "CANDIS treatment program for cannabis use disorders" to clinical practice. The evidence-based treatment manual was translated into different languages. In her most recent work, Dr. Hoch focuses also on health benefits of cannabinoids. Other research topics are: New behavioral and e-interventions, treatment practice guidelines, epidemiological studies, randomized-controlled trials, systematic reviews and meta-analysis, international collaboration and networks. Dr. Hoch was honored through several research awards.